Anderson, Carl A.
Rayo (05/2009) P $13.99
 0061715905 9780061715907

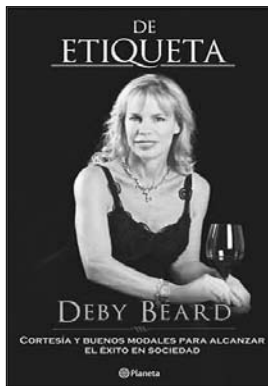

Drawing on ideas introduced by Pope John Paul II, Carl A. Anderson of the Knights of Columbus demonstrates that not everyone has to agree on the fundamental questions of life in order to come together on the centrality of loving and caring for others. Through embracing a culture of life and standing with those most marginalized by modern society, Christians can change the tone and direction of our world.

UNDER SURVEILLANCE)
Mattelart, Armand
Paidós Iberica (01/2009) T $48.50
 8449321913 9788449321917

As technology becomes more sophisticated, all of what we say and do is being caught on tape, and the dystopic world that George Orwell envisioned in 1984 is becoming a reality. This book describes how our rights and liberties are slowly being eroded by government surveillance and how the goals of fighting terrorism and preserving national security are used as justification for terrorizing citizens and making our society increasingly insecure.

After a car accident in 1989, Don Piper was pronounced dead. Ninety minutes later, Piper came back to life with an extraordinary story. His memoir, 90 Minutes in Heaven has strengthened the faith of countless people. When Piper returned to this life, he had a long road back to health, dealing with painful treatments and physical disabilities—the “new normal,” as Piper calls it. Still, he had been transformed spiritually and this allowed him not only to cope with his suffering, but to transcend it. Now Piper reveals how he found purpose in his pain, the message in the mess, and so can anyone else who embraces God’s grace in the here and now, as well as the Hereafter.

The influence of consumerism has spread across the globe, from superpowers to emerging nations. Unfortunately, the damage to both society and the environment is just as widespread. As the global economy nears the point of collapse, we are left to wonder, is it possible to divert these dangerous profit-driven forces? This author asserts that creating an ecologically sustainable way of life that can benefit us all is not only possible but practical. This book explains how to change our “social metabolism,” reducing the resources consumed by rich nations and learning to live on less so that more people can thrive.

It looks like just another car crash: a head-on collision on a lonely stretch of desert highway that leaves one driver dead. Yet Tom Valle, the local newspaperman assigned to the story, is good at spotting deceit. Once a star reporter at America's most prestigious daily, he was disgraced after being caught spinning columns of lies and exiled to the smallest town paper that would have him. Seeking personal redemption and the resurrection of his career, Valle investigates a trail of cover-up, fraud, and murder stretching back for decades. But the path of corruption is so dark, Valle wonders if this story will redeem him or kill him.
